Big Fish – more than just a trophy yacht- proven performance in the world's most exciting destinations.

Innovative design has paved the way for BIG FISH's success. From the South Pacific to Antarctica, Brazil to the Baltic, the BIG FISH ethos has brought numerous guests to the most exotic destinations world-wide and thrilled them all. In 2012 BIG FISH will continue her world cruising. Captain Winston Joyce Clarke and his excellent crew of 9 have an in depth local knowledge of the areas to be explored and will ensure that every trip, is a trip of a lifetime. The following pages show not only her plans for 2012 but the various features that set BIG FISH apart from her competition and make her the most charter friendly yacht on or off the beaten track.

The award winning epoxy infused granite decks aboard BIG FISH are much more environmentally friendly than traditional teak. Apart from looking great, the decks are comfortable to walk on, didn't harm the world's tropical rain forests to be produced, are easy to maintain and very durable, even if guests want to wear high heels onboard!

Other unusual features on BIG FISH include a crow's nest for guests to relax and watch the world go by with 360 degree views, as well as side opening aft bulwarks which can be combined with the swimming platform to create a 14m wide "beach" around the aft deck. This is the widest swim platform of any yacht under 65 meters. In a world where space is luxury, BIG FISH excels. With the aft deck bulwarks down, side boarding on a 45m yacht becomes a reality – step aboard high and dry from the BIG FISH tender Triple Ripple. The custom designed 7.8m Triple Ripple was nominated best tender 2011.

One of the most stable and secure tenders ever built, Triple Ripple will allow you to fish, dive, snorkel, surf and ski in safety, comfort and style. The tender is cleverly stored underneath the foredeck and can be easily launched using a specially designed hydraulic crane system. Other toys stored neatly in their own garages include two RS Feva sailing dinghies, 2 kayaks, 3 paddleboards, 2 windsurfers, wakeboards, water skis and inflatable toys. The vast range of toys with a professional crew that are keen to get you out and on or under the water (yes there is a SCUBA instructor aboard) means that no matter where you are there is always something exciting to do on BIG FISH.

Outside, BIG FISH offers an abundance of space for guests to relax and unwind. The top deck features a large Jacuzzi and extensive sunpad area for catching the sun's rays, while a permanent bimini offers shelter over a dining area for up to ten guests, a bar and barbeque area, perfect for entertaining.

The decks on BIG FISH are revolutionary; being one of the first to be made completely from epoxy infused granite and therefore are kinder to the environment.

The main salon features a wealth of comfortable seating to relax in, while full height windows throughout the area bring the outside in, this effect is complemented by the light panels that enhance the feel of natural daylight.

A wide-angle photograph of the interior of the 'BIG FISH' yacht. The space is a large, open-plan living and dining area. In the foreground, a round black dining table is set for six guests with white plates, gold placemats, and glassware. A centerpiece of fresh fruit and flowers sits on the table. The room features large floor-to-ceiling windows on the left and right, offering a view of the water and greenery outside. The interior is finished with light-colored wood paneling and a ceiling with recessed lighting. In the background, a large L-shaped sofa faces a wooden coffee table, and a large window looks out onto a terrace area.

The adjoining dining area continues the light and modern theme and features a round table for guests to dine on the exquisite delights of the chef. The bulwarks fold down to give an infinity terrace either side and the dining table converts to a low coffee table for a more informal atmosphere. As laid back as you want to be. The neighboring full beam galley is spacious and well designed, also featuring large windows and a seating area for guests to enjoy an early morning muffin with the chef, part of the BIG FISH ethos of barefoot luxury.
